War stories from the FOSS video frontier

24. april 2019 - 17:00

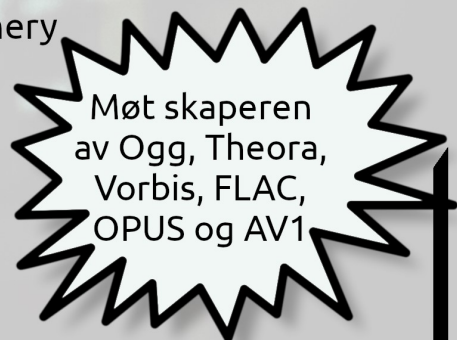

NRK Store Studio, Marienlyst · Oslo

Christopher "Monty" Montgomery

First they came for ARC. Free software replaced it.
Then they came for GIF. Free software replaced it.
Then they came for MP3.

What on Earth did they expect Free software to do?

In this talk Monty will present recollections, technical asides, and unsubstantiated gossip in an intentionally one-sided history of the codec wars. From the early days of LAME to the dawning story of the new AV1, come hear about the tactics and maneuvers of Free codec development.
